WHEN ADMIRAL RABORN was appointed to CIA, Deputy Director LGen Marshall "Pat" Carter, USA, was required by law to leave; he will head National Security Agency (Photo Page 12). Same situation exists at Federal Aviation Agency. Appointment of General William F. McKee, USAF-Ret., Deputy Administrator of NASA, to head Federal Aviation Agency makes it necessary for LGen Harold W. Grant, USAF-Ret., to vacate post as FAA Deputy Administrator.

LGen Marshall S. "Pat" Carter, 55, USMA '31, who was Deputy Director of CIA, has been named by President Johnson for another top intelligence post as Director of the National Security Agency, succeeding LGen Gordon A. Blake, USAF, who retires. General Carter was required by law to leave CIA following appointment of VAdm William R. Raborn, USN-Ret. as Director. The top two posts may not be filled by military men.
